Books: Howard Schatz's "At the Fights"

By David Schonauer Friday November 9, 2012

The sweet science meets art in photographer Howard Schatz's new book At the Fights: Inside the World of Professional Boxing, which was spotlighted recently by Time's LightBox blog. The book, which chronicles the boxing industry and its stars, from champs and club fighters to managers and promoters, offered the prolific Schatz a creative challenge: "Some sports require several movements, like basketball—players jump, run, turn, pass, shoot—but boxers are essentially just ducking and throwing punches," he says.
